Where is the explration date at?

By Amazon Customer 360 TOP 1000 REVIEWER on March 5, 2015

Verified Purchase

This is my first purchase A Better Brain Naturally and I picked this up because I am always worried about keeping my brain functioning well even as I age and this had a lot of the stuff that I know is necessary to keep your brain at top performance in it. When I received the Brain Armor it actually came with a paper that had a lot of information about the product which I thought was very very cool because that ended up answering a lot of the questions that I had before I started taking this supplement. I think the only question I could not find the answer to that I had and that may be because I overlooked it I am not sure was what the actual shelf life was on the syrup and where was the expiration date located on the bottle.

Directions are to take 1/2 tsp as needed and if you only want to take this on certain occasions and not daily this bottle is going to last you forever! The taste isn't too horrible I was able to swallow the syrup with out any problems what so ever but you can also mix it with hot water to dilute the taste if you need too.

After taking this supplement I did have more of an alert feeling and actually felt quite aware of myself and what I was doing through out the day. The bottle did indicate to Keep of reach of children and DO NOT TAKE WHILE PREGNANT OR NURSING so that is something to think about before buying. I am 100 percent satisfied with my experience I had no problems with shipping/delivery and it seems to be working for me. I would definitely come back and buy in the future. Now per Amazon Rules Here is my Disclosure: I did receive a coupon to buy this with a discount to write my honest opinion of the product. That doesn't effect my opinion at all. I base my ratings/reviews 100% off of my own personal experience with the product.

Love the herbal effects

By Jasmine Dennis on March 10, 2015

With alot of the elders of my family starting to pass on I really took the time out to look into my family's medical history and see what we have in common. I want the younger generations to take better care to be proactive rather than reactive when it comes to our health in order to prevent or atleast slow down some of the things that run in our family. We seem to have high blood pressure, diabetes, Alzheimer's, and heart disease. From there I started doing research on things we could do to provide ourselves with healthier lifestyles in order to preserve ourselves a bit more. When I am afforded the opportunity to test products that will aid in my new goal like this Brain Armor I am definitely happy. I personally didn't like the taste alone but I was ok with in in a cup of hot water its almost like hot tea , the taste however is nowhere near unbearable I am just super picky. I am not currently experiencing any memory loss so I can't say in that aspect that anything has proved however I do feel like the herbal aspects of this syrup have helped me a bit. I like the bottle it came in as well it reminds me of old school apothecary bottles almost :) It has quite a lot of syrup and will definitely last awhile . I am pleased with the Brain Armor and feel great tht I can take something to aid in prolongng negative affects in an herbal form rather trying to give myself a ton of chemicals.

a wonderful, natural preventative form of medicine or treatment to protect against memory loss

By Angel Lee on March 15, 2015

Verified Purchase

Okay, let me first start off with the taste as I'm sure that will be the biggest question you'll have.. It's strong but it's not overwhelmingly so or too off-putting.. if you find It to be unbearable, add It to a small cup of your beverage or have a drink as a "chaser". It's only 1/2 a teaspoon so it shouldn't be too bad. The taste did NOT bother me as I grew up being 1/2 Korean and exposed to some of the natural ingredients found here: ginger, ginseng, etc.. Brain Armor is not a cure - it is not meant to suddenly make someone have mental clarity.. it IS however a wonderful, natural preventative form of medicine or treatment to protect against memory loss - especially if you're in a family with a history of Alzheimer's or Dementia. Prevention is much more healthier and costs less than most treatments for illnesses... not just brain health. I'm really excited to have been a part of the special coupon deal so I could receive this for a discounted cost to evaluate and give an opinion on.. If you have any questions, just post them and I'll be happy to answer as best as I can. I leave this review saying, try them for yourself, I recommend them and as with any supplement - check with your own physician for a personal consultation and advice and remember, results are varied from person to person. :)

Herbal Syrup

By Rebecca Coleman on March 10, 2015

Verified Purchase

This is the first product I have tried from A Better Brain Naturally. Brain Armor is made from "adaptogenic" herbs. These herbs "have been validated for preventing age - related mental decline."

The herbs in this formula include American ginseng, ginkgo, rhodiola, schizandra and ginger. Each of which have their own benefits.

This is a herbal supplement syrup. The suggested usage is 1/2 tsp. as needed. I first tried this recommended amount with just plain water. I have to say the syrup is quite strong and doesn't taste great. I decided the next the time to try mixing it with a little bit of juice. The juice masked the taste some but not much. The taste isn't terrible, it is okay after having something else to drink afterwards.

I would recommend trying this product. All natural is the way to go, and the cost is affordable.

*I received this product in exchange for a honest and unbiased review.
